Your Board calls attention to improvements during the last year at Depot and Short Streets and Short and Central Streets for which no land damage was charged the Town due to the generosity of Mr. George Copeland of South Easton and Mr. Charles E. Drake of New Bedford, Mass., also to 600 feet macadam road built near Michael Furlong's on Depot Street, 600 feet near H. Ellsworth Simpson's on Depot Street and 700 feet near W. D. Fenderson's on Turnpike Street. Our Road Department is working in harmony and if we could increase the appropriation to $25,000 we feel it would be beneficial to all.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES E. HOWARD,
FRANK P. KEITH,
JOHN F. DAILEY,
Selectmen of Easton.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING, MAY 24, 1920

The meeting was called to order at 8 p.m. by the Moderator, and the warrant read by the Town Clerk.

Article 1. Article dismissed, as a Moderator had already been elected at the Annual Town Meeting.

Article 2. The following report of the Committee on the erection of a memorial was read and accepted:

Easton, Massachusetts, May 24, 1920.

Report of the Committee on the Erection of a suitable Memorial to the men and women of Easton who served their Country during the World War.

To the Special Town Meeting, May 24, 1920:

The substance of the vote of the Town Meeting in March, 1920, was that this committee report, on the nature, cost and a suitable location of a memorial bronze tablet, or some other suitable memorial, to the men and women of Easton who served during the World War.

It is perhaps well to state that the committee did not consider other than the memorial tablet. The suggestion of a building was made to some individual members of the committee, but was not considered at this time.

After consultation with firms in the business, the committee reports that the cost of a suitable bronze tablet will range from $1000 to $1500. A tablet might be obtained for less than $1000 and of course we could spend more than $1500. But as a practical matter the committee believes that the price of a suitable bronze tablet would range between the figures given. There is the further expense of the background for the tablet. If a boulder could be found in the town or nearby, it would lessen this expense. As reported to me the approximate cost (at the quarry) of a Quincy stone would be from $100 to $200 and a stone from the Rockport quarry would cost from $400 to $500. It may be that a slab of sufficient size could be gotten from some near-by quarry, but this is doubtful.

The committee is in favor of placing the tablet at the entrance to the school grounds on Main Street, North Easton.

Although no part of this report, it might be added that the stone cutters of New England are not working at the present time — a strike has been on since the first of May.

Respectfully submitted for the Committee, .

DANIEL F. BUCKLEY, Chairman.

After the reading and acceptance of the report of the Committee, the following motion was made and accepted: In accordance with the report of the Committee, it is voted that the Town of Easton erect a bronze memorial tablet to the men and women of the town who served their country during the great World War, with special designation commemorating those who died in service; that an appropriation of $2000 be made for this purpose and that a committee of nine be appointed by the Moderator to carry this vote into effect, the Town Clerk and present commander of the American Legion Post to be included in this committee.

Article 3. The following vote was passed, ninety-six in the affirmative, three in the negative. Voted that the Finance Committee and Auditors be instructed to investigate the conditions of the Town Farm, and that all officials connected with the same be instructed to give the committee all the information necessary; this committee to report at the next March meeting with recommendations as to what disposal should be made of the Town Farm.

Article 4. Voted that the sum of $381 be appropriated to pay Chester Hanson, for compensation and medical expense for injuries sustained while fighting a forest fire in April of 1919, and that the Selectmen be authorized to draw upon the Town Treasurer for the aforesaid sum.

Article 5. Voted that school buildings and schoolhouse grounds shall be under the general charge and supervision of the School Committee.

Voted to adjourn.

STATEMENT OF LOANS, 1920

Loans of 1919 unpaid December 31, 1919	$25,000.00
Loans of 1920 in anticipation of revenue	115,000.00
	$140,000.00
Loans paid in 1920	100,000.00
Balance due	$40,000.00

In the recapitulation of the Treasurer's account is shown the fact that $40,000.00 of the loans obtained by the Treasurer in anticipation of the revenue of 1920 remained unpaid on December 31, 1920.

A portion of this amount can be paid during 1921 by money to be received from outstanding taxes; the balance must be paid by taxation.

The primary cause of this deficit is the lessened amount received from the State each year as a return on income taxes, also the overdrawing of appropriations in past years and the large number of unpaid bills carried over from year to year by several departments, of which no report has been made to the Town and which evidently have not been taken into consideration in making the yearly appropriations.

The Treasurer would suggest that all departments in asking for their appropriations do so on the budget system, showing in this budget their probable expenditures and income in detail for the forthcoming year, also showing all the unpaid bills against the department for the closing year, in order that a somewhat definite idea may be given of the actual amount of money to be raised by taxation to finance the Town's business.

FREDERICK HANLON,
Treasurer.

Report of the Tree Warden

North Easton, Mass.

To the Citizens of Easton:

The work of the Department this year has been more or less of a clean-up, due to the fact that the last two or three years, the former Tree Warden, Mr. Melendy, encountered difficulties in securing men to perform the work required.

For this reason, many promises made in good faith were not carried out, and therefore, during the past year, I have tried to fulfill the same to the best of my ability.

Through the kindness of Mr. John S. Ames, one of our former Tree Wardens, the department was able to establish a small nursery at the Town Farm. Mr. Ames gave the Department one hundred and fifty Norway Maples, suitable for planting as shade trees, thus enabling the Department to conserve money in years to come, which otherwise would have to be expended in buying trees from other nurseries.

Considerable trimming was done on Main, North Main, Union, Randall, Washington, Oliver, Elm, Turnpike, and Day Streets, also on Massapoag and Sullivan Avenues, in order to remove dead limbs and low hanging branches which were dangerous to both traffic and pedestrians.

The Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Brockton did considerable trimming in the Town in order to provide clearance for their lines already established, and for the purpose of running new lines in order to increase the efficiency of their service.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Postal Telegraph Co. cleared their main lines in the Town.

The Department removed the following trees:

- 5 trees on Main Street.
- 2 trees on Jenny Lind Street.
- 1 tree on North Main Street.
- 17 trees on Bay Road.

- 1 tree on Elm Street.
- 3 trees on Washington Street.
- 1 tree on Williams Street.
- 2 trees on Center Street.

The Department set out the following trees:

- 4 trees on Sheridan Street.
- 2 trees on Washington Street.

The Department gave ten Norway Maple trees to persons owning land abutting the highway and these were set out by the abutters.

Considerable spraying was done in co-operation with the Moth Department, and the value of using a truck for the transportation of the spraying apparatus proved efficient, in that it saved money, by saving time.

It will be necessary to do considerable removing during the coming year, as there are too many trees in some sections of the Town. On Center and Washington Streets, for example, there are some sections where the trees are only twenty to twenty-five feet apart, whereas they should be forty-five to fifty feet apart in order that they may obtain their full growth and still retain the shapes characteristic of their type, and also by removing every other tree the highway would dry out sooner after a heavy rain, thus reducing the cost of maintenance of the same.

For the work of the Department in 1921, I would recommend that the Town raise and appropriate $2,000.

Respectfully submitted,

J. J. HARLOW,
Tree Warden.

Report of the Board of Health

To the Citizens of the Town of Easton:

In the year 1920, two hundred and twenty-five (225) cases of disease dangerous to the public health were reported to the Board of Health, classified as follows: Tuberculosis, 7; Scarlet Fever, 10; Diphtheria, 8; Influenza, 84; Measles, 85; Mumps, 3; Chicken-Pox, 19; Whooping-Cough, 9.

There were fifteen (15) deaths, in which reportable diseases were certified either to be the sole cause or a contributing cause. These were divided as follows: Tuberculosis, 3; Lobar Pneumonia, 4; Influenza, 5; Diphtheria, 1; Scarlet Fever, 1.

The total number of deaths in 1920 was seventy-five (75).

We would call the attention of physicians to the fact that Lobar Pneumonia is a reportable disease, and although this disease was certified as a contributing cause of death in four cases in 1920, no case was reported to the Board of Health.

Our expenditures during the last year on account of diseases dangerous to the public health amounted to $922.16. The greater part of this as usual was paid on account of tuberculosis. The expenditure amounting to $775.16 was on account of five (5) patients, two in the Rutland State Sanatorium, one in the Bristol County Tuberculosis Hospital, and two who were given local aid.

The amount paid to the Bristol County Tuberculosis Hospital, amounting to $85.72, was repaid to the Town by the patient's family, and the Town is entitled to reimbursement from the Commonwealth on account of another patient, for whom an expenditure of $381.05 was made.

We have also had to care for two scarlet fever patients, and one diphtheria patient. Two of these cases were sent to the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital, and a nurse was furnished for the other one.

The sanitary survey of the Town this year disclosed the fact that conditions continue to improve. The Board has had to send out fewer notices this year on account of improper conditions on premises than any year since the inspection began.

The Board has issued seventy-six (76) permits to produce and deal in milk during the year 1920. A large part of the milk produced in Easton is marketed out of Town. Analyses of milk samples by our milk inspector has been confined for the most part to milk produced to be consumed in Town. The quality of the milk sold in Easton is on the whole very satisfactory. While occasionally the analysis of a sample discloses carelessness in handling, and while sometimes a sample may be below the legal standard in fats and solids, these conditions happen with much less frequency as time goes on.

We wish to call the attention of Superintendents or other officers in charge of cemeteries in Town to the provisions of Chapter 321 of 1920, which went into effect July 15, 1920. This act provides that in the case of burial of a body or of the ashes thereof in a cemetery, or upon the removal of a body or the ashes thereof in a cemetery, or upon the cremation of a body, the Superintendent or other officer in charge of the cemetery or crematory, shall endorse upon the burial permit or certificate of removal the fact of such burial, removal or cremation, with the date thereof, and shall make and preserve a complete record of the permit or certificate with his endorsement, and shall forthwith return the original permit or certificate to the office from which it was issued.

For convenience, the Board of Health has appointed the Town Clerk as its agent to issue burial permits, so that all persons having charge of cemeteries should return the permits properly endorsed to the Town Clerk for the Board of Health.

The financial statement and the report of the Inspector of Slaughtering follows:

FRANK E. TILDEN,
Board of Health of Easton.

North Easton, January 1, 1921.

To Board of Health of Easton.

Gentlemen:

From January 1, 1920, to January 1, 1921, I have inspected twenty-two carcasses of beef, one hundred and sixty-four carcasses of swine, two hundred and twenty-seven carcasses of veal, all of which I found in good condition and passed.

JOSIAH C. GOWARD,
Inspector.

Report of the Inspector of Animals

To the Selectmen of the Town of Easton:

I herewith submit my Annual Report for the year ending December 31, 1920.

During the year I have inspected 84 stables in which were housed 466 cows, 241 young cattle, 27 bulls, 4 oxen and 30 sheep. I have also inspected 154 swine.

In some cases it was necessary to recommend certain changes to safeguard the health of the animals and for the most part they were cheerfully accepted.

I have quarantined five cows for being under suspicion of having the disease known as tuberculosis. These cows were all killed and buried.

Five dogs were quarantined under suspicion of having the disease known as rabies, or having been in contact with diseased dogs. Three of these dogs were killed and buried and two were released.

E. CARLETON HAYWARD,
Inspector of Animals.

Report of the Committee on Memorial Tablet

To the Citizens of Easton:

The committee on the tablet to be erected in honor of the men and women of Easton who served in the great World War, and to commemorate those who made the supreme sacrifice, respectfully reports that it has contracted with Reed & Barton of Taunton for a suitable bronze tablet six feet eight inches in width by four feet four inches in height to be placed on the stone background at the entrance to the new school building on Main Street, North Easton. A blue stone step will be placed under the tablet and it is the plan of the committee to have shrubs, in keeping with those already on the school grounds, clustered around the back of the tablet.

After considering every site that was suggested, the committee was unanimous that the location chosen was an ideal one for the tablet. This meant that the stone wall had to be built up for a frame for the tablet; the necessary pointing of the wall will be completed in the spring.

After the committee had looked over the many designs submitted, it was felt that it would be helpful if we had the assistance of one who was skilled in designing. The committee was fortunate in getting Mr. Charles M. Baker of Boston who had the added interest that he was the architect of our beautiful school building and the designer of the artistic school grounds. The Tablet Committee expresses its very sincere appreciation of the courtesy and work of Mr. Baker, who has given so freely and generously of his time and services to this work. He made the design of the tablet, but much to the regret of the committee it was found that it could not be erected for Armistice Day, and it was decided that the tablet would be placed in position for the patriotic services on Memorial Day.

The committee has made every effort to see that the Roll of Honor, as it will appear on the tablet, will be correct.

Annual Report of the School Committee

To the Citizens of Easton:

In conformity with an act of the Legislature passed in 1838 requiring the superintending school committee to make a report to the Town, we present this, presumably the Ninety-third Annual Report, as the first committee was elected in 1827.

We report with regret the resignation in August of Mrs. Sadie L. Hurst, as a member of the School Committee. Mrs. Hurst for five years has been a member of the board and has given without stint of her time, energy and experience in the management of the schools. The best wishes of the committee are extended to her in her new position on the faculty of the Junior High School. Miss Dorris B. Morse was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Sadie L. Hurst at a joint meeting of the Selectmen and School Committee held September 7, 1920.

REGISTRATION AND BUILDINGS

Our total school registration increased in September, sixty over last year. The total membership is one thousand one hundred and seventeen. The increase in school population in South Easton and Eastondale has overcrowded the South Easton School and made transportation of more pupils to the Junior High School necessary.

It should be determined if the building of a schoolhouse at Eastondale would economically adjust, physically relieve, and educationally improve the situation. We have this matter under consideration.

SALARIES; OPTION A $55,000

The yearly rate of salaries in December was $51,920. Increases under the salary schedule bring the January rate up to $53,020. The February rate will be $53,920. This leaves $1,080 to be applied to schedule increases beginning in September.

The greatest problem in our schools today, a condition not confined to Easton, but a state and nation wide problem, is how to attract and hold our teachers. Easton is paying its teachers salaries on an average with those paid in Towns of its size in the state. Yet since June, 1920, we have lost by resignation nineteen out of the total of forty-one teachers we had then. Only three left to be married, the other sixteen to accept higher paid teaching positions. Five of the sixteen have left since schools opened in September.

There has been a change of nearly fifty per cent in the teaching force during the last six months.

The table shows where losses have occurred.

	Number teachers in June	Left since June	Per cent of change
High	11	7	60
Junior High	4	2
North Easton Grammar	13	3
Outside	11	5	33½
Supervisors	2	2

OPTION B $64,220

The resignations referred to above have taken place, notwithstanding the fact that teachers' salaries have been raised from $37,451.37 in 1919, to $50,807.49 in 1920. The fact is our teachers are being attracted by the high salaries paid by cities and towns of greater valuation. This condition must necessarily continue, and in an acute form, for small towns with high standards until the rewards offered persons to enter the teaching profession are large enough to attract sufficient numbers to more nearly meet the demand. To maintain our present salary schedule we need an appropriation of $55,000. This schedule is not high enough to retain or attract teachers of as much training and experience as we desire. Until general conditions become more settled it is about the least that will hold a teaching force. Our teachers have petitioned for another increase in salaries amounting to $12,020, an increase of $9,220 over the amount needed to maintain our present schedule. Will this increase, if granted, solve our problem? In part, yes, but entirely, no; as long as there are not enough teachers to go around and the richer towns and cities are competing for their services. As far as we are able, we must hold our trained teachers, as they are one of the greatest assets of modern civilization. With the above statement we leave an increase in the salary budget, as proposed in Option B, to the Finance Committee and voters in Town Meeting assembled.

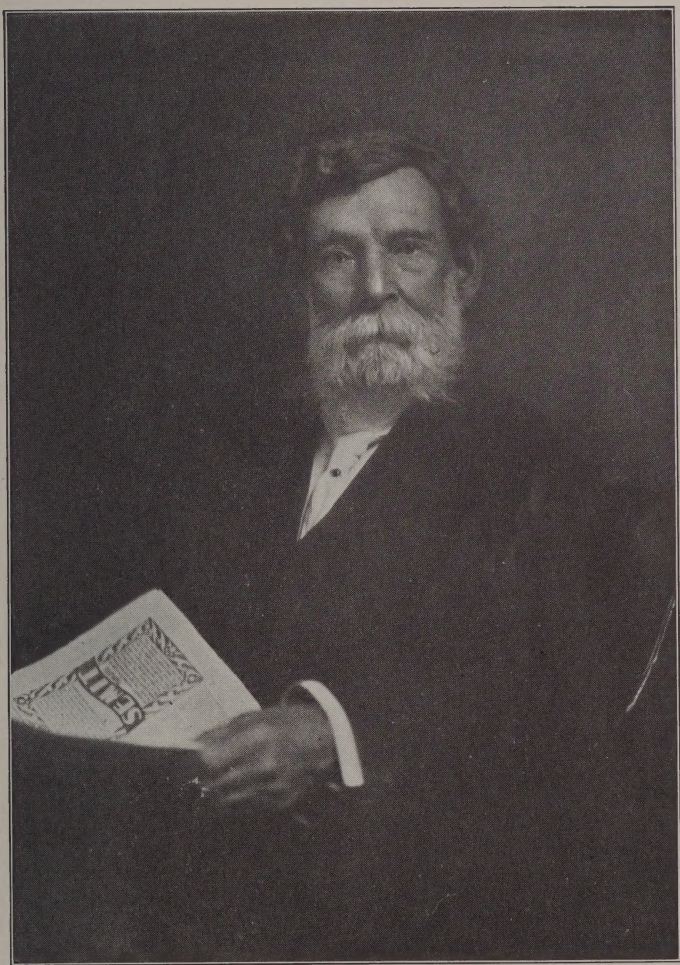

FROM AN HISTORICAL POINT OF VIEW

The two biographical sketches presented here are part of a brief historical and biographical pamphlet on school men and women which the Committee is asking Rev. William L. Chaffin and the Superintendent of Schools to prepare for distribution later. We feel that a greater reverence and appreciation may be felt for that institution, the American School, if the present generation can become more intimately acquainted with its development, attained through struggle and sacrifice for many years. It may also be an aid to us all in solving school problems, to know what has gone before. We know that these two men have been instrumental in building the present structure and that a few words about such lives of service will be interesting and helpful.

REV. GEORGE GARDNER WITHINGTON

Rev. George G. Withington was born in Bolton, Mass., July 26, 1831. He soon removed to Lancaster, Mass., and was educated at the Lancaster Academy, later at the Meadville Theological School, Meadville, Pa. His calling as a clergyman was interrupted by illness, and later he became a teacher, and then Town Clerk from 1876 to 1913. He has been a resident of Easton since 1858, from 1859 to 1871 a member of the school committee. As a teacher, he began in District No. 1 in 1867. The following year 1868, the first high school was held, Mr. Withington in charge, the first high school teacher in Easton. The four terms were held in different places. The first year Mr. Withington taught three terms, the first at Easton Center, the second at South Easton, and the third at Easton Furnace; the second year, 1869, two terms, the first in the hall over the Ames Corporation store, and the second in the new schoolhouse, now called the Junior High, both at North Easton. From 1872 to 1874 he taught the so-called "High and Grammar" at Easton Furnace.

The school reports show that as a school visitor Mr. Withington realized methods of advanced and valuable nature, such as oral, in place of text-book instruction, and interpretative reading instead of thoughtless repeating of texts. The organization of the High School was also due to its first teacher. From Mr. Withington's account we learned that for several years Easton was liable under the law, for non-establishment of a High School, and did not vote for one (November, 1867) until the town was made to forfeit state funds.

The influence of this man has always been exerted along lines of educational improvement. In the school report of 1864 to 1865 he advocated a high school. He worked for the abolition of the district system and also for more liberal appropriations for school use, both of which objects were accomplished before he left the committee. As the organizer and first teacher of the High School, Mr. Withington deserves to be held in the greatest esteem by the citizens of Easton.

REV. WILLIAM L. CHAFFIN, D.D.

Rev. William L. Chaffin was born in Oxford, Maine, August 16, 1837. From 1839 to 1857 he lived in Concord, N. H. His preparation for college could not be followed immediately by the college course because of lack of funds, but later he graduated from the Theological School at Meadville, Pa. (1861). He was settled as minister in Philadelphia for three years, a part of which time, however, he served as a soldier in the Civil War. He was then called to Fitchburg, but was disabled by a severe injury for two years, then came to North Easton in January, 1868. He is now senior minister of the Unity Church. Mr. Chaffin is well known as the author of "The History of Easton" and also as chaplain and Past Commander of Post 52, G. A. R. He has been Secretary of the Ames Free Library Trustees since that board was formed, and also served for many years as a trustee of the Meadville Theological School. For twenty-eight years, from 1869-1897, he was a member of the School Committee of Easton, writing his first report in 1871.

Mr. Chaffin related to us many interesting facts, some of which show marked contrasts to present conditions:

In 1870 only $1200 was raised to support the High School which was held twenty-six weeks at North Easton and fourteen at Easton Furnace.

The first Superintendent of Schools in Easton was appointed in 1885, Canton sharing with Easton his services and the payment of his salary.

There are six persons five of whom are living in Easton, namely, Miss Charlotte A. Clark, Mrs. G. W. Andrews, Mrs. George DeWitt, Mr. Withington, Mrs. Morton Hayward and Mrs. Ellen F. Reed, who taught in the schools in 1852, '64, '65, '68, '69 and '70, respectively. Of the teachers now serving, Miss Mary J. Reynolds was the earliest appointed, 1877, and she now, after forty-three years of admirable service, receives the maximum salary for meritorious teaching.

Easton can thank Mr. Chaffin for his pioneer work in building up a High School, enriching its course of study, employing trained teachers in the grades, visiting the schools regularly and procuring the first superintendent of schools, truly an admirable record in the interests of education.

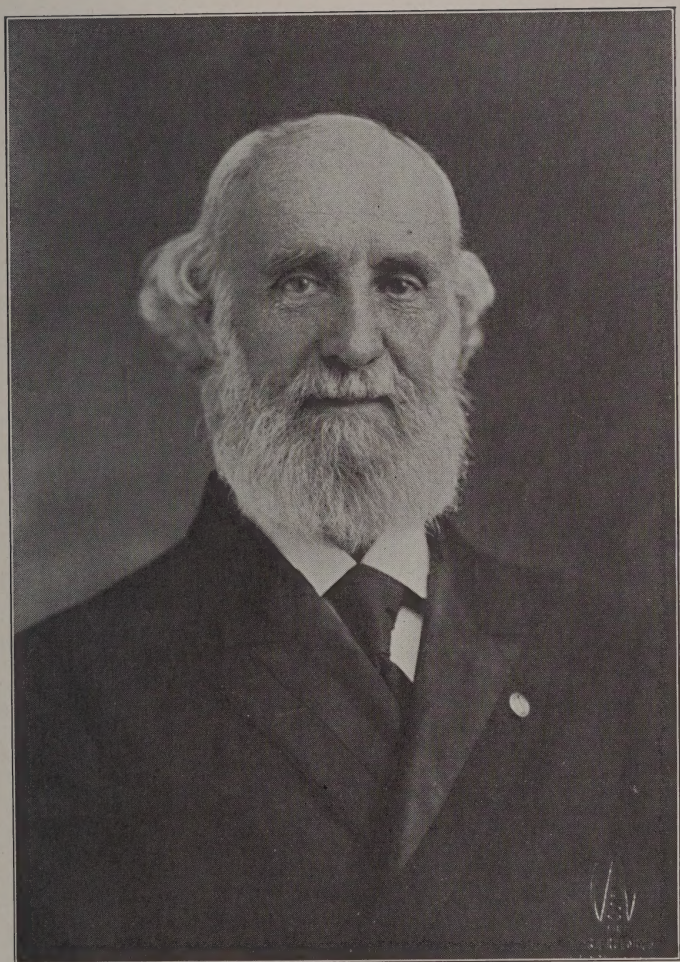

The true value of history is manifested when the present generation is enabled to profit by the mistakes of the preceding ones. During the Civil War period the schools of Easton were creditably maintained. In 1865 Mr. Withington wrote: "It is to the credit of the Town that during a time of struggle and depression no motive of false economy has curtailed its appropriation for the education of the young; and now that we may hopefully anticipate the dawning of a brighter day, may a still greater liberality be considered the part of wisdom." It does not appear, however, that the liberal appropriations were continued to meet the demands of the times, for in 1876, eleven years later, Mr. Chaffin wrote:

"The Committee advise wise and considerate action regarding a subject so supremely important as the training and education of the young. A policy which looks chiefly to screwing down school appropriation to the lowest figure possible, will seriously cripple the real efficiency of the public schools, as it will compel the shortening of our school year, already shorter than in most other towns, or will oblige us to hire low grade teachers."

Let the work and example of these two men give us courage to continue to maintain efficient schools. They, with many others, have given us a real heritage which must be preserved.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the School Committee of Easton,

Madam and Gentlemen: It gives me pleasure to submit to you my third annual report, which is the thirty-fifth* from the office of the Superintendent of Schools.

GENERAL

The regular routine work has consisted in part as follows:

Number visits to eleven outside schools	128
Number visits to seven outside buildings	36
Number visits to outside districts	164
Number teachers' meetings	17
Number committee meetings	18

Through these visits and meetings many of the professional and administrative duties of the teachers and superintendent are determined and evaluated.

ATTENDANCE OFFICER

The Attendance Officer reports that he made ninety-one visits. You will note in his report that he found on forty-five of these visits that the child in question was ill. It is possible that the number of these visits might be greatly reduced if all parents would notify the teacher when the child is ill.

ROLL OF HONOR

The names of pupils who were not absent or tardy during the school year appear on page 61. Because of the severe winter weather the list is not so large as usual.

You may be interested to know that the custom of printing this Roll of Honor was initiated by the School Committee in 1859.

*Report of 1908 should have been numbered the twenty-third instead of the twenty-fourth.

EMPLOYMENT

Chart VI contains the record of the certificates issued. "I" indicates number initial certificates or number different minors. "S" indicates number of certificates issued subsequently. The ratio of S to I is the per cent of labor turnover in a year. It was greatest among boys of 16 to 18 years old, or 58 per cent. The average was 31 per cent.

There were 29 boys and 16 girls from 14 to 16 years old who were working while schools were in session, a total of 45.

Twenty-eight were employed locally, and 17 in other towns.

There is an unfavorable comparison between the 31 per cent labor turnover in the year among these minors, and the change of 46 per cent in our teaching force within six months. We expect these young people to make some changes during their first years of employment. I shall refer to the changes in our teaching force further on.

CHANGES

The increase of about 30 pupils in the 7th and 8th grades, chiefly in the South Easton and North Easton districts, made it necessary to open an extra room in the Junior High School.

Many larger cities and towns were compelled by law to open continuation schools, but Easton was not obliged to do this. Nevertheless an unusual number of our young people have returned to, or continued in school.

We are sorry to report the discontinuance of the work of the Supervisor of Physical Education. Doubtless physical education will eventually have a permanent place in the school curriculum.

Miss Sylvia McGill is now engaged two days a week as Supervisor of Drawing. The town has been without a supervisor for some time and it seemed necessary that this work receive more attention.

The Public Health Nursing Committee has made it possible for the School Department to have the services of the Public Health Nurse. Much excellent work is now being done. A brief report follows:

HEALTH WORK

The health inspection of all school children has been made as usual by Dr. Porter, the school physician, and the notices of defects have been sent to parents as required by law. The aim of health work in the schools is the prevention and correction of the physical defects of the growing child. To this end an individual examination has been given each pupil to determine the condition of the teeth, tonsils, sight, hearing, skin, general health and cleanliness of body and hair.

Below is a report of the follow-up work accomplished by Miss Crosby, Supervisor of Physical Education during the school year ending June, 1920, and continued by Miss May Lipsett, Public Health Nurse since November 23.

	Number follow-up notices sent	Corrective action taken
Teeth	662	179
Enlarged tonsils and adenoids	102	23
Sight	45	22
Hearing	1	1
Enlarged glands	36	0
Skin disease	17	17
Pediculosis	65	65

Forty children received treatment at the Dental Clinic, part of the expense being met by the proceeds of the sale of Christmas seals.

The generous response to the sale of Christmas seals this year makes the continuance of the dental work possible.

AGRICULTURE

Your attention is called to the report of the instructor of agriculture. More tangible results have been secured in this department this year than for some years past. Plans have been adopted correlating the work of the department with the Bristol County School and the County Farm Bureau. Locally a cow test association has been formed. The members of our Advisory Committee are: William N. Howard, F. L. Ames, Mrs. Louis A. Frothingham, E. L. Lewis, G. H. Gilbert, and Edward Parker. This committee has met several times during the past year and has consulted with and advised the local school officials.

PUBLIC EXERCISES

During the second week in May, public exercises were held in Ames Memorial Hall. They consisted of the regular classroom exercises combined with other school department activities. The aims were to show the parents the processes and results of schoolroom practices and to furnish the students with a motive for doing their best.

Nearly all of the numbers on the program were carried out very successfully. If any were to be especially mentioned, it would be the following: Socialized recitation, Grammar School pageant, several of the exercises of Thursday afternoon and the Stoughton-Oliver Ames debate. The complete program of exercises will be found on page 41.

EDUCATIONAL TESTS AND MEASUREMENTS

Chart VIII, Age and Grade, shows a favorable distribution. About 5 per cent of the children have changed from the normal group to the under age group since a year ago. There are 61 more pupils in school than last year. This is due to two equally important reasons: families have moved into town, and there are fewer 14 year old children at work.

Chart IX shows the standing of the schools as regards over-age pupils. Relatively there are more over-age pupils in the Union School than elsewhere. Junior High comes next and the Howard has none. In comparing the results of tests and intelligence examinations where the ratings are given by grades, allowance should be made for this variable element of age. Thus, other things being equal, one might expect the Union School to stand higher, grade for grade, than the Howard School.

READING EXAMINATION SIGMA I, JUNE, 1920 CHART X

The test was given to the pupils in the first three grades. It is considered by the authors that this test, in addition to being a test of reading ability, is also a good measure of general intelligence.

The standard score is based on the results of testing several thousand children in the United States. The test consists chiefly of reading, to interpret by doing or choosing. Thus, there is a picture of several birds, some are on the ground, and others are in a tree, or flying in the air. The direction given is, "Put a cross over each bird that is on the ground." Again, "Does April come before March?" "No — Yes," is given and pupils underline either No or Yes.

A study of Chart X shows that in the larger schools the results are more uniform and in general they are normal. The two second grade classes in Poquanticut and Center secured third grade ratings. The reading in certain grades fell below normal. These results show us where special effort should be made.

INTELLIGENCE EXAMINATION, DELTA 2, MAY, 1920

This examination was given in Grades 4 to 8 and consisted of six parts: 1. Sentence reading. 2. Arithmetical problems. 3. Picture completion. 4. Synonym — antonym. 5. Practical judgment. 6. General information.

It will be noted that the North Easton Grammar, Poquanticut and Eastondale Schools obtained practically normal scores on the grade basis. The other schools are in general below normal.

No child can secure creditable results in these tests unless he is able to read or interpret correctly and to choose quickly. These are two basic elements of intelligence, and it is our purpose to lead pupils and teachers to realize that the right kind of training will develop these qualities.

OTIS GROUP TEST, HIGH SCHOOL

This test consisted of: 1. Following directions. 2. Selection of words of opposite meanings. 3. Rearranging disarranged sentences and indicating whether each is true or false. 4. Selection of statements to explain proverbs. 5. Solving arithmetic problems. 6. Selection of geometric figures. 7. Selection of analogous words. 8. Selection of similar words and forms. 9. Narrative completion — many words missing and groups of words given from which to make a selection. 10. Memory, answering questions concerning a story read orally.

The results obtained were very satisfactory when compared with the norms obtained from 11,000 students elsewhere, especially those obtained by our students over 15½ years old.

PENMANSHIP TESTS, CHART XII

In general the quality of the writing is unsatisfactory and the speed is too slow.

A special committee on penmanship selected from the teachers is formulating plans for improving the penmanship. As an incentive to the children, certificates of proficiency may be issued.

ARITHMETIC, SPELLING AND VOCABULARY TESTS, GRADES VI-VIII, CHART XIII

The reading and solving of problems was above the normal in all grades. Figuring, including fractions and decimals was very poor. The spelling was normal; the vocabulary was poor.

Many generalizations might be deduced from the results of these educational tests and measurements. Suffice to say that in general they confirm the tentative opinion, previously held, concerning the work of groups of our children. It is not always possible for the accomplishment of an individual to be materially changed, yet the accomplishment of groups may be improved greatly with special effort under favorable conditions.

There are many laws of nature relative to the development and power of the human mind and body, which if better understood would help teachers to improve the quality of thinking and acting of their pupils. But we must first know what our problems are and where the weaknesses lie. These tests and measurements are an aid in this respect.

COMPARATIVE STATISTICS

Cost per pupil in average membership for support of schools.

Year	State	Group II	Easton	Rank in Group II
1915-16	41.68	37.20	38.45	24
1916-17	45.10	39.05	40.53	23
1917-18	48.73	43.25	48.46	13
1918-19	53.35	46.59	50.52	20
1919-20	65.32	61.23	65.88	22
Average, five years	50.83	45.46	48.77	20.4

Group II consists of about 75 towns of 5000 population or over. It does not include the cities. Easton's average in rank for five years is in the lower part of the first third of these towns, but she has been slowly losing her position since 1917-18. To be in the first third is very satisfactory, but the tendency toward a lower rating is not so encouraging. It will be noted that Easton has been expending about $3.00 more per pupil than this group, and about $2.00 less than the State average.

The Oliver Ames Fund provides about $5.00 per pupil, which amount is included in the figures for Easton. It is evident that we are spending no more than is necessary to be eligible to receive this grant as provided in the Will.

The per capita cost in 1919-20 in average membership for support of schools in towns of Group II was $61.23. The average membership for the first four months this year in Easton is 1117. The product of $61.23 times 1117 is $68,393.91 or practically the same amount as requested from local taxes in the budget for 1921, option A.

FINANCES

The cost of education is increasing rapidly. When considered in relation to the expenditures of ten years ago the amount has more than doubled, and may at first thought seem to be excessive.

Twenty-two per cent of the inhabitants of Easton are in the local public schools. This per cent is very high. The total expenditures of $83,315.10 for the year ending December 31, 1920, is probably no greater than the amount spent for footwear for all the inhabitants of the Town during the same period. We cannot live without shoes, neither can we truly exist without education.

The valuation of the school buildings and sites is about $300,000 and of the equipment, furnishings, and books about $30,000.

If three per cent should be allowed for repairs and upkeep on the buildings the annual amount needed would be $9,000. About $3,000 has been requested and granted annually during the past three years.

Twenty per cent depreciation on $30,000 would amount to $6,000 per year. We have been receiving about $2,000 for these items yearly.

In each case, only about one-third of the amount indicated by the above estimates is appropriated and spent on these items.

We shall agree that the total expenditures for education are large when seen at close range, but when viewed from a distance where a better perspective can be obtained and the true proportions felt, shall we not also agree that the expenditures are relatively small, especially when the importance of the investment is considered?

Under the caption "Looking Ahead," I have endeavored to emphasize other educational needs of Easton.

LOOKING AHEAD

Several years ago two streams, one the Allegheny, the other the Monongahela, were swollen beyond the capacity of their banks to hold back the turbulent, rushing, muddy waters because of the unusual climatic conditions back in the mountain districts.

These streams met and the Ohio River overflowed its embankments. For hundreds of miles, fields, trees, and buildings were inundated. When the flood subsided there stood buildings practically ruined by water and besmeared with filth. Even churches were covered nearly to the eaves. Our river boat dared not pull anchor until the flood had subsided.

As I study the present educational conditions in Easton and elsewhere, two rather prominent streams of waste and inefficiency are discernible. These two streams are meeting: one, teachers in the making, who are present in the class-rooms with no teaching experience or professional background; the other, certain groups of boys and girls, your own children, too many of whom apparently have no definite aim or purpose in attending school.

Is schooling too much a matter of course? Do boys and girls go to school only because they are compelled by law to do so? Is it that their opportunities are not realized, their responsibilities not felt? How much or how often do parents confide in their children for the purpose of bringing out their youthful aspirations? Are these habits and feelings cultivated and nurtured by confidential, thoughtful, kindly encouragement and guidance? How much time is spent by parents with their children around the hearthstone contemplating this all important matter — life's vocation? I do not intend to suggest that final decisions should be made, but I am pleading for enough serious attention to these vital questions that pupils may come to our Junior High School with the consciousness that school life is real, and that there they will find real opportunities if they will but take advantage of them. As individuals they should feel that they have latent powers and wonderful possibilities. During this period of life they should find themselves. With a clear aim and definiteness of purpose they should take up their school work with earnestness and enthusiasm that will dispel slovenly habits, strengthen the will, cultivate the feelings, awaken relatively inactive minds and put to flight that uncontrolled egoism. Do not a too large proportion of our boys and girls consider more diligently how they can most easily make a passing grade, than the ways by which they can most effectively develop their bodies, minds, feelings, and powers of will? What per cent of them take schooling as a habit, and the development of body, mind, and soul as an accident?

Some school systems have a so-called director of vocational guidance. Our teachers by studying the habits and abilities of their pupils endeavor to suggest courses of study that lead to the various vocational and professional groups. Far more important than these difficult and rather superficial endeavors on the part of the teacher is a strong will, a definite aim, and a real determination on the part of the pupil to succeed. If he has these qualities, success will be sure to follow sooner or later. A little experimenting to find out what he enjoys and can best accomplish will make him all the more satisfied with his final choice. Without these positive, personal qualities attendance in a passive mood at a certain number of class-room periods throughout six years of school-room confinement will avail little.

How can these positive qualities be developed? As suggested above by having an aim, and by developing the will. Parents, can you not aid by helping to determine the aim and by guiding the activities that the will may be developed?

In the old school of pedagogy we were told that if a boy was weak in or disliked mathematics to promptly give him more, as this was what he needed. In the new school we are told that this is a day of specialization and that we should discover his desires and aptitudes and give him what he likes and what he can do well. So far I think we can agree with the new school of pedagogy. But the psychologists tell us the best way to develop the will is to do immediately that which we dislike or that which is disagreeable, if it is right and we know it should be done. Is it not possible then, that the new pedagogy gives less opportunity for the development of the will, and that this newer procedure combined with the ease by which pupils can secure an education through free transportation, free textbooks, free supplies, free tuition, and free everything, defeat to a certain extent the purposes of a well-rounded education, one element of which is the development of the will? We wish to emphasize that the fixing of an aim and the development of the will not only insure a better and a more rapid intellectual development on the part of the pupil, but what is more it gives him the motive force through which he can later make his attainments function.

This unsymmetrical, unbalanced, educational condition of the present day is not altogether different from the ordinary developments of our present day civilization. We have powerful locomotive agencies, but they are equipped with powerful brakes. We have steam-heated buildings with systems of ventilation. We have bright lights softened with shades. For all such improvements there is a necessary corrective agency or antidote. Parents, what is needed is a higher development of the will, and in this you can assist by helping your children to a more definite aim.

We believe in all of these advantages of the public schools and more, for your children; they are far from being sufficient. For the want of larger appropriations and because of many limitations our schools are more or less inefficient and there is waste of time, money, and effort. Without going into detail let me add that larger appropriations would be in the nature of insurance. Not only would the larger appropriations be exchanged for more value received, but the amount already available when added to the premium would become in itself more effective.

One can have a pair of practically worthless shoes but by the expenditure of about one-fourth of the original cost can have new soles put on. The shoes have then some real value.

The schools throughout the country are much like the worn-out shoes. They need larger appropriations, especially for new school buildings and for salaries of teachers. We treble our appropriation for fuel because we must. During the past decade the salaries of teachers have remained at the lowest possible level and now there is a real shortage of teachers. The increased demand brings now much higher salaries with no uniformly satisfactory solution, for teachers have not been in the making. School policies cannot be viewed from the point of view of the present only; industrial depressions must not be allowed to affect school policies.

Easton needs a larger appropriation for teachers' salaries. I make this statement after carefully studying the facts. We have newly engaged nearly 50 per cent of the teaching force since June. All the former teachers left for better teaching positions, except three who were married. We are continually hiring teachers with no experience and some with little or no training.

Let me add, lest any of our teachers who are getting their first experience here may read this article, that what we desire is a sufficient appropriation to retain them another year instead of hiring their inexperienced brothers or sisters.

It seems to me that these two undesirable educational streams, aimless pupils and untrained or incompetent teachers, which have been fostered in the material valleys and the industrial mountains, have been swelling the low, narrow banks of our educational system during the last decade or more, and that now they are meeting ready to threaten our American institutions, our solidarity as a nation, with diluted principles and muddy minds. The educational river boat must now be carefully constructed and the institutional levees built on a solid foundation before the destructive flood arises to its height. The home must assume more of the responsibilities and the tax payers must come to the rescue.

Members of the Committee, as your pilot only, can I suggest where I think we should steer? You and your constituency are the engineers who must furnish the motive forces until education becomes more definitely a state or national affair.

Respectfully,

CARLON E. WHEELER.

Report of the High School Principal

MR. FREDERICK SMITH

VALUE OF HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION

Two of the best proofs of the value of a high school course have been brought out within the last few years. First, nearly all of the officers in the late war were chosen from high school and college graduates. The judgment, self-reliance, and determination developed in the high school and evidenced by these boys in completing their course carried them into the important places during the crisis. The second item of proof is a financial one and furnished by figures from the United States Bureau of Education.

Boys who began work at 14 years, at 25 years of age were earning		$12.75
Boys who finished high school course, at 25 years of age were earning		31.00
Forty years of working at $12.75 per week	=	25,500.00
Forty years of working at $31.00 per week	=	62,000.00
Balance in favor of high school education	=	36,000.00
High school course of 40 months worth $900.00 per month or $45.00 per school day.

These figures, further, do not take into account the fact that a boy or girl with a high school education is much better equipped for enjoying life, or that the earning power of a boy with a high school education will increase at a much faster rate than that of a boy without one.

COLLEGE CERTIFICATING

Last spring the Oliver Ames High School was placed unconditionally for three years on the approved list of the New England College Certificate Board. The following colleges are members of this board: Amherst, Bates, Boston University, Bowdoin College, Brown University, Colby, Massachusetts Agricultural, Middlebury, Tufts, Williams and Wesleyan University. This is the first time the High School has been placed on the list without conditions. This certificating privilege is secured for the school by the good work of the graduates of the last few years done in college.

With six members of last year's class in Boston University, one in Simmons, one in Harvard, and one in Massachusetts Institute of Technology all doing excellent work, the school should retain this privilege for some time to come.

One graduate has received for college grades two A's and two B's while a college dean speaks of another as being a "splendid student" and "showing a very thorough preparation." Last year Boston University awarded a scholarship to another graduate in recognition of excellent work done there. These are bits of evidence that show that a boy or girl with the proper purpose can fit himself in this High School for college. If they do not have a purpose, school can do little for them.

DEBATING

The Debating Club, organized in September, 1919, has begun its second year. It has a victory over the debating team of Stoughton High School to its credit and is in temporary possession of a cup which is to go to the school that wins two of three debating contests. The second contest will be held in Stoughton this spring.

Training in debating has been secured through the Club and through work in the English classes with the idea of giving as large a number as possible a chance to develop power for original thought and oral expression in a way that is seldom offered by ordinary classroom work.

Besides the annual debate with Stoughton, one or two are planned with other schools, and with teams from the High School alumni.

SPECIAL HIGH SCHOOL WORK

Some of the best training secured by High School pupils is that gained outside the classrooms or outside the regular textbooks. Besides the work of the Debating Club some of these activities follow:

The Class of 1920 staged, very successfully, a play. The High School Orchestra and Chorus held a concert, the proceeds of which are being used to buy instruments that will be lent to pupils. The High School pupils held a dramatic entertainment to secure further funds for the Honor Roll.

Considerable time was spent the week before the presidential election in a study of the League of Nations and other campaign issues, and a vote taken on ballots especially prepared by the commercial department. All members of the school have had training in parliamentary law and club organization. All members have had definite instruction in the use of the school and public libraries. Some instruction has been given in the use of magazines, newspapers and moving pictures, and more has been planned. The High School contributed its full share to the success of the school exhibition which was held last May.

PHYSICAL TRAINING

The physical work of the High School is this year limited to boys' and girls' basketball and boys' baseball. Since this reaches only about a fifth or a sixth of the pupils, it can be said in no way to meet the physical needs of a High School. With an excellently equipped gymnasium available, provision should be made for a program of physical training that would reach every pupil. This is being done by places that do not have nearly so good facilities for the work as Easton.

The athletic teams of the school have had very satisfactory records for the past year. Last year under the supervision of Mr. Sadler the boys won a majority of the games of their basketball and baseball schedule.

The girls' basketball team with Miss Crosby as coach, won all but two of their games and the championship of Southeastern Massachusetts.

This year the boys have been in charge of Mr. Adams and have won a number of fall baseball games and most of the basketball games played thus far. Emphasis has been laid on clean playing.

The girls' basketball team has been coached by Mrs. Smith and to date has lost but one game.

While these records are good and show real results, they are very inadequate when compared to the results that might be obtained by a regular program of physical education which would reach every one.

MUSIC

Mr. Saunier has continued Mr. Nye's work with the music classes and the orchestra. The orchestra has practiced each week, has played at most of the school entertainments and some others, and, in connection with the High School chorus, gave a successful concert last May. A similar concert is planned for this year. With the proceeds instruments are bought and lent to those desiring to learn to play. There seems to be no reason why credit should not be given for study of music either at home or in school.

HONOR ROLL

A bronze honor roll containing the names of graduates who took part in the World War has been placed in the rotunda of the High School. It contains seventy-seven names. One of these (George S. Shepard), has a gold star before it. Funds for this were provided by the classes of 1919 and 1920, and by a dramatic entertainment given under the auspices of the High School.

MOTION PICTURES

The motion picture is a new but great force in education. It reaches old and young, rich and poor. Most of the pictures such as the dramatization of books and plays, the travel and news pictures are of great value. But many western pictures for example, are extremely sensational, and some, the serial, the vampire, and the crook pictures are absolutely vicious. There is a wealth of educational material available at present in moving pictures, and there will be more in the future. The expense of securing these pictures is small when the number of pupils that can be reached is considered.

TEACHING CHANGES

Of the ten teachers teaching wholly or partly in the high school last year only three are here now. For three of the seven positions filled it was impossible to secure a teacher with any teaching experience. A fourth position is now being filled by a substitute. This indicates that the existing salary schedule is inadequate to attract and hold a corps of experienced teachers. If the Town wishes to maintain the standard of its high school it will be obliged to immediately consider paying higher salaries.

TEACHING BY PRINCIPAL

The principal teaches four of the six periods each day. This does not leave a proper amount of time for general supervision of the school. This teaching time should be cut to three periods per day at the most. It is not possible for one person to attend to the office routine of a high school, maintain the discipline, supervise the classroom work, and serve as a teacher. Provision should be made for clerical assistance and a reduction of the teaching time if the principal is to be able to give the time to such general supervision of the school as is necessary to its success.

CHOOSING OF A COURSE

The number of high school students being attracted to commercial work is shown by the fact that of the High School enrollment of two hundred on February 1, one hundred and four, or over one-half, are taking the commercial course. The college courses take in forty-three, or less than one-fourth, and the normal numbers but twenty. No doubt this is due in part to the extremely high wages which have been paid during the last few years. But as conditions seem to be returning to normal, and to the time when trained workers will receive a compensation that will take into consideration their training more boys and girls should be influenced to enter the college and normal courses. The low figures for the normal and college courses show a danger to our schools, for which there is already a great shortage of teachers.

Unless increased salaries for teachers and parental advice can influence more to enter the college and normal courses the shortage will increase. It takes several years to create a supply of teachers. By the time the boys and girls now entering school are prepared for their work the teaching profession should be on a much better basis.

Parents should be sure that their boys and girls have an aim before entering High School, and that their courses are chosen with that aim in view.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

High School on approved list of New England College Certificate Board and Class A for Normal Schools.

The first of three debating contests for a cup won from Stoughton High School.

REPORT OF THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT

MR. THEODORE W. GLOVER, JR.

The last two annual reports of the Agricultural Department have endeavored to show our purpose and aim; so I shall take but brief space to show the accomplishments for the year just passed and perhaps a few suggestions for another year.

The results of the different activities follow below in tabular form.

I. Agricultural Class Work.

A. Ten pupils completed the year ending September 1, 1920.

B. Agricultural work carried on by pupils.

1. Projects.

Total area 2.81 acres; total value products $789.55.

Total pupil labor on projects $180.08.

2. Other supervised agricultural work.

Credit for work done by boys on home farms $358.46.

Cash for work on other farms, etc., $274.84.

II. State Clubs.

A. Number enrolled, 31.

B. Number completing work, 18.

C. Prizes won:

IV. Garden class held at North Easton Grammar School.

- A. Sixteen grammar school pupils members.
- B. Two plots of land 13 feet by 60 feet used.
- C. Pupils kept up garden work through summer.
- D. Financial Statement.

Cash from produce sold	$7.71
Total expense	6.58
Profit	$1.13
Produce furnished pupils in return for labor		$9.01
Cash from produce sold		7.71
Total value of crops		$16.72

V. Milk Testing.

- A. Board of Health.
18 collections made; 76 samples tested.
- B. Numerous samples of milk and cream have been tested for individuals free of charge.

- VI. A cow test association of dairy-men is to be started at the beginning of the new year for the benefit of the farmers and several have already shown their interest in and approval of the work. The object of this association is to determine the actual production in pounds of milk and butter fat of every cow in the herds whose owners are members, to determine the cost of feed for each of these cows and to eventually eliminate those whose milk production will not pay the cost of feed. The association will be in charge of the instructor.

CONCLUSIONS

The Grammar School Garden Class serves in general those boys and girls who have no chance for a garden at home. I think this will become a successful venture if the parents of these children take the responsibility of the children being present at the required time during the summer.

There were many good children's gardens this year, but a great many failed to do anything. It seems likely that our efforts would be of more value if the children were signed up for this work through the parents who should be the responsible parties.

The state clubs should continue and be encouraged wherever possible. Many boys and girls who may not feel like devoting their whole time to agriculture still have a liking for it which is fostered through club work. Club work encourages thrift, responsibility, and the practice of keeping accounts.

The enrollment in the agricultural department of the High School is still below what it should be in a place of the size and nature of this town. Let me ask that the parents have faith in the future of agriculture and in this department as a place to train for that future, for our numbers are low chiefly from lack of interest on the part of parents whose boys might or would begin here to take up this great work.
